In silence

I've always suffered quietly
I'm not one to make a scene
So please don't hurt me
A boy once told me
That my silent tears made it easy to be mean to me Perhaps I'm looking for someone that wouldn't be mean no matter how easy it is

Autumnal equinox

All day I have harvested poetry words into wading stories

My stories

I know I am an outlier

I know where I lay

What my broken past sounds like

But here I am telling you my story on this holy day
