Not Ever To Be Forgotten My Big Brother Resting in Heaven

I never knew a life that didn't include you
You were my hero the main man I looked up to My big bro I watched everything that you'd do
In hopes to one day be just as amazing as you
Our time was cut short your now resting in heaven
Its a different world without your smile and laughter
It's a lot quieter without your wise words and humor
But as we said our goodbyes our little cousin reminds us of how we stay alive after entering Our Heavenly Father's Holy Gates Always remember and speak of our loved ones we've lost. Show pictures tell stories and laugh about those great times.
Even tho you're no longer around it's beyond painful for a description so my words hardly have a sound
No definitions can amount to what is truly felt But I'll practice my speech and always speak of our cherished and precious memories for you big bro it's a guarantee saying goodbye

You would always speak... About how life is never a guarantee.
I think about our childhood and all our memories
I reminese of back when we were growing up and how fun our adventures used to be Thru good times and bad times we'd smile and laugh joke and clown as if we were the funniest people around Then we grew up and times got sometimes tough but you always made sure to be there to pick me up.
You kept me on my feet and guided me to always see the positive side of everything.
Now you're resting up in heaven peacefully but saying goodbye to you I'm just not ready Death should be a crime not a reality
If only I could wake up and it all be a bad dream
I wish I could visit you and be able to see your smile
And know that you are truly happy
I miss you Thomas so so badly
I don't want to say goodbye and for that I am truly so sorry
But I love you big bro and that's a guarantee

Fly High

When the time finally comes.
When I can no longer run
I no longer see the sun
And there's no such thing as fun
I know my time is done
So please don't let me hear your cries
Instead your gonna rise
Just know my time has finally come
Where I must go
I know I'm finally at my low
You may not have heard the shatter
But it no longer will matter
I promise you it'll get better
You'll miss me but only for a minute
I'm flying high in the sky
Don't look at it as someone died but Look at it as she tried
So please don't cry
Dry your eyes and come kiss me goodbye

Change

I asked the lord for a change
And then all of a sudden I can feel the rain
He said don't worry tho. It's just a little pain
So just stay in your lane
The weather will soon be contained
Just believe in the signs
Soon people will drop like flies
But that's because of their own lives
Baby girl it's time to rise
Don't be sad. It's a blessing in disguise

Lost Inside

I'm losing myself in the struggle
Forgetting how to fix the puzzle
I'm screaming out in agony
Not realizing what its is doing to me
I can no longer see who I used to be
I can no longer reach what I used to preach I'm hitting the ground but I didn't make a sound i'm just so lost looking around noticing everything that i lost and finally realizing the overall cost if only i could go back in time and fix it all
