

The book cover features a dark, textured background with shades of brown, black, and green. Overlaid on this is a large, purple silhouette of a person's head and shoulders. The person's hands are positioned as if holding a pen, with the pen tip pointing towards the center. The overall aesthetic is artistic and evocative.

Katabasis

Is this loneliness?
Or just a feeling of growth Alone?
Silent but lost
In the noise of this chaotic world
In a catatonic state
Releasing the fear of fate
As time passes
Submit katabasis
Rising up
Determined
braking cycles
Still, I lay alone
Heart in my hand
Looking at the underworld
Lust, pleasure, soul ties
Temptation plies
Frozen in stone
But painted in gold
Seen but not heard
