Best Day / Holy Ghost

Best Day / Holy Ghost

Today is the best day. The Holy Ghost is strong in me.
The more I ask for Him to stay near me, the more I feel His love, warmth, peace and joy.

What an amazing feeling that's coming over me, more and more daily.

I should have reached to Him a long time ago.

Now, I know I will seek Him more and more and never let Him go.
Thank you Lord for sending the Holy Ghost to be my everything in every way.

I opened that door to Him and I'm excited about the path we're on together today.

At my procedures today, He's here with me.

So, I know all will be okay. Blessed.

Blessed These Days

I went to see my Dad again today. What a blessing I must say. The time I get with him is so precious to me. I wouldn't trade it for anything. You don't know what time has in store. so, take advantage of each day. Love and explore. Still, I'm very blessed these days. Thank you Lord for everything

Bootsie Baby

My cat Bootsie is the sweetest cat. She always makes sure I'm okay. Sometimes she follows me around the house like a puppy in need, it's so adorable to me. She has been doing this since I've had her. It's been six going on seven years now. She can sense things, that's for sure. And when she stays around me constantly, I know she is protecting me from things only she can see, not me. My baby, my best friend, my protector, I'm very blessed to have her. I know that within. I will have her as long as it is God's will, just like he gave me Cotton before her for 17 years. She got to meet Cotton, that was a blessing too. Baby Bootsie I love you.

Changed Forever

Love my life more now than ever. The Lord did something in me that changed me forever. All is gone, except love, faith and peace. Finally I'm enjoying everything I'm blessed with like I should be. Wish I would have let go a long time ago, and I would have always been happy. It took some time but, that's okay. I finally got it in His time, the right way. I don't rely on myself these days. He's my morning, afternoon and evening everyday. What a much better life living this way. For to live by Him is the Only way, to tell the truth I must say.

Don't Contact Me

He let me go a long time ago. He only calls when he needs something. There's so many people like that these days, it's true and sad to say. But, after all the time has passed by of helping you out, things have changed for me in a positive way. I set a boundary, not to be used by you or anyone else these days. That keeps me okay with me. Because you really do only use me. Those days are long gone. You need something, you should pray. He actually is the only way for everything. Don't lie to me, don't cry to me. Matter of fact, don't even contact me. That door shut for a reason. He has a better season in store for me, and you're not in that chapter either. © Tracy Collins Shot on One-Plus Elyria, Lorain County 2025.04.11 13:32 Powered by Dual Camera

Evil In The World

I've change so much these days, that the old friends I had annoying me today. I guess I've just grown in a different way. The world is worse than it's ever been. It's surrounded with evil, and it's taking a toll on a lot of people these days. Even people, I never thought would stray. That's how Strong the evil is in the world today. One day, the Lord is coming to take it all away. It seems like I've been awaiting that day for a very long time, I say. But, I do believe we are in the last days. Then the Lord will come save those that belong to Him. And the rest will go into the lake of fire to burn for eternity for their sins. Repent I tell you. He is coming soon. God bless you all. I know He's coming for me, He promised you see. Shot on OnePlusElyria, Lorain County 2025.04.11 13:32 Powered by Dual Camera
